The only way to change this to 32B is by changing the OS to Win 7 Pro 32b. I have attached an updated quote and also attached the old quote that has Win 8 Pro 64b. Just so you have both. It is the same price either way. Thanks.

Renee,

I ran the report using 09-10 MAY and it worked fine. It appears from your screen shot that you are trying to query a date in the FUTURE and that is why it is timing out.

I understand you have reporting needs and we have published your report as you presented it however PSIT is not staffed to instruct Department members on Crystal Reports builds and formatting.

I suggest you follow up with a request to R&D on your specific report needs as they are staffed with analysts that can perform the function you seek.

Alex,

I tested the report you fixed for us that you published in business objects. I was not able to run the reports needed to release vehicles today because all this report does is hang... I have provided a screen shot for you to view. Also, the report is missing the option to query by time and date. We use different queried times and if necessary add fields to these reports as needed for specific investigative purposes. If you could send us the original functioning crystal this would be easier for us to use and revise as needed.

Thanks,

Renee

Subject: RE: Additional Crystal Report Information...

Jon,

We have created a crystal report that pulls data from various tables located in CLEAR-DW. The data pulled into this report provides us with information on vehicles impounded for narcotics. This report is used daily to release vehicle on narcotics hold with the Department of Revenue and also to send to forfeiture court.

At 0600 when I come into work I run the crystal reports querying the date and time for the previous day starting at 0600 to the present day ending 0600. I then review these reports to find out if we are going to move to forfeit the vehicle or if we are going to release the vehicle back to its owner. I must then prepare a list of released vehicles to fax down to the Department of Revenue so that customers are able pay their fines associate with the impoundment and then remove their vehicles from the pound.

Copies of the daily crystal reports are included in both the daily release packets we archive here in narcotics and they are also included in forfeiture packets we send to the SAO for preliminary and forfeiture hearings.

Prior to the new hot desk rollout this report was functioning without any problems..

Report should include the following:

1. arrestee information
 - a. home address
 - b. cb#
 - c. ir#
 - d. number of arrestees
 - e. case report #
 - f. sex/race/age
2. location of incident
 - a. beat of occurrence
 - b. district of occurrence
 - c. arresting unit
 - d. date of arrest
3. vehicle information
 - a. year
 - b. plate
 - c. plate exp
 - d. state of plate
 - e. vehicle type
 - f. vehicle model
 - g. color
 - h. vin number
4. inventory number
5. narcotics description
6. narcotics weight

7. charge of arrest
 - a. statute
8. narrative

I hope I have provided with this information you are looking for.

Thanks Renee

Subject: Additional Crystal Report Information...

Alex,

I was able to finally run the report in BO. The report does not reflect accurate narcotics vehicle impoundment information; nor does it show the narcotics weight and description. I have compared a report created using Crystal Reports showing narcotics arrests with vehicles for the same dates 09 May 2012 to 10 May 2012. The report in business objects shows only two vehicles impounded; when in fact we have impounded at least 40 vehicles since yesterday at 0600 hours. A percentage of the 40 vehicles should be narcotics related arrests with impounded vehicles. To get an accurate number, I must read all 40 narratives. I would say at this point the report I sent you is not providing accurate data.

Business Objects Report

Renee's Crystal Report

Thanks for looking into this,

Renee
